The Great Healthy Yard Project, Our Yards, Our Children, Our Responsibility

Our goal is beautiful yards without synthetic chemicals. The most widespread problem facing our drinking water is pollution by chemicals used on yards and gardens. The more people pledge to care for their yards without the use of synthetic chemicals, the cleaner our drinking water will be. Join Diane Lewis, M.D., author and founder of the nonprofit organization, The Great Healthy Yard Project, to learn how native plants and natural yard care bring our yards to life with butterflies and bees, and protect our children and pets.

Book signing to follow

Dr. Lewis's book will be available for purchase by the Garden Store.
